European Network of Transmission System Operators for Gas (ENTSOG) launches its Annual Report 2013

(Brussels, 19 March 2014, PR060-14) In 2013, ENTSOG achieved a great number of deliverables for the internal gas market. The newly published Annual Report 2013 provides all the necessary details for interested stakeholders and also covers for the first time implementation activities that commenced 1 October 2013.

The previous year showed a high degree of cooperation between gas market stakeholders. ENTSOG has devoted much time and resources to involving all market participants in public consultations and workshops. Among the key accomplishments were the Ten-Year Network Development Plan 2013-2022, the submission of the Network Code on Interoperability and Data Exchange Rules and the publication of Cost-Benefit Analysis Methodologies in support of Project of Common Interest process.

Stephan Kamphues, ENTSOG President, said, "By establishing a sense of mutual trust with our stakeholders, we are able to cooperate effectively in the pursuit of our common European goals. Starting in 2013, ENTSOG also monitors implementation activities, such as the Transparency Platform which is visited by nearly 1,000 users per day with an average of 10,000 downloads in that time."
